I am all for regulators, but does your continued actions have to look so obviously corrupt. It is time for the criminal bankers to give back all the money they have taken from the people of my country, or face the guillotine. And your agency wants to help them do more fraud on everyone, homeowner, investor, government and the judicial system. Tell the truth, foreclosures were and are illegal, and titles are corrupted beyond repair. Emminent Domain, I do not think so. Give the homes back to the original owners. It is time for those in our government that aid the corruption, to go to jail..... And make the bankers the slaves of the regulators. Funny.....
